

a simple formula for today's business

you + your customers = success

successful outcomes for all

Using business process improvement to streamline your organization, reduce costs and eliminate waste is a start. But, in this economy, you cannot afford to lose customers.

Since 2001, Novick Consulting has helped clients achieve their reasons for being through interactive and engaging workshops. Using techniques rooted in Agile, Scrum, Theory of Constraints and Lean, Novick Consulting cultivates a more holistic consulting experience that encourages its clients to break free of convention, discover new ideas and reach outstanding breakthroughs toward evolving everything they do around their customers.

What's more, Novick Consulting harvests the ideas inherent in its clients' teams and motivates them to innovate on their own, assuring they own the future they create.

you + your customers = success.
